Private College in Dhaka, Bangladesh

MH Samorita Hospital and Medical College

Bangladesh is densely populated country in the world with a population about 160 million. Bangladesh has a unique health system starting from ministry of Health & Family Welfare(MOH&FW) in the capital to health Assistant at grass-root level But due to shortage of budget the service coverage is not adequate and uniform throughout the country. Privatization of Health care service is very important for Bangladesh. With this feeling MH Samorita Hospital & Medical College, Dhaka started its journey in 2010 with the permission from the MOH&FW of Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh & Universities of Dhaka. MH Samorita Medical College and Dental Unit have taken steps to fulfill this gap and aspiration of the students in the prevailing situation. There is also a 500 bedded teaching hospital attached to MH Samorita Medical College. This Hospital is a well equipped hospital delivering both general and specialized services including ICU, Cath Lab, CT Scan, CCU, NICU, HDU & Dialysis unit.

Our Challenge is to establish this Medical College and attached Hospital as a center of excellence keeping its quality, cost and satisfaction of all stakeholders and with great respect to our cultures and values. It has already traversed 7 years by winning these challenges. Now the college has gained confidence to become capable to educate national and foreign students. Students will get admission into the college to learn and practice for long five years and finally come out as physician, who will serve the mankind with deep care
