Nepal Medical College

Nepal Medical College Pvt. Ltd. (NMC) is located in Attarkhel, within the Jorpati Village Development Committee, approximately 11 km northeast of Kathmandu city. Nestled at the base of a small hill, the college offers a peaceful and serene environment, ideal for a medical college and teaching hospital. To the north, the Gokarna hillock is adorned with pine trees, while the Gokarna Safari Park lies about one kilometer to the east, across the Bagmati River.

The campus is bordered to the west by terraced areas filled with trees, providing a picturesque setting. The NMC campus, which includes both the college and the Nepal Medical College through its main entrance on the southwest, features academic buildings, a library, hostels for male and female students, and the Nepal Medical College Teaching Hospital (NMCTH).

The college encompasses various departments, including Clinical Biochemistry, Clinical Pharmacology, Clinical Physiology, Community Medicine, Forensic Medicine, Human Anatomy, Medical Microbiology, and Pathology, all of which are integral to the first two years of the MBBS curriculum.
